CONSULTATION AND PRODUCTION PROCESS

INITIAL CONTACT:

We will set up an initial conference to become acquainted with one another. Here we will begin to acclimate ourselves with our respective organizations, goals, and outline the desires and expectations of the program at hand. This meeting is meant to be very casual and conducive to the free-flow of ideas and aspirations. We will answer and address any questions and/or concerns you may have pertaining to design, Services, venues, catering, transportation / tours, personnel / staffing, and of course, preliminary budgeting.

PROPOSAL PROCESS:

We assemble our notes and ideas, and in collaboration with our staff of Event Specialists, we begin the process of producing an initial proposal for your very special event. Often, this may/will include site visits to photograph venue specifics, placing selected entertainers on hold (to assure event availability), design specifications for sound and lighting, consultation with venue staff to ascertain needs for power distribution, load in parameters, and other site – venue specific preparations. At this point, we are ready to summarize our recommendations in the form of a draft proposal, and present them to you in a follow meeting at your convenience.

EVENT CONFIRMATION FOLLOW-UP:

Now your event begins to take shape. Together, we take our ideas and knead them into a tangible shape that will form the basis for your very successful event. Ideas become reality, aspirations become expectations, and fabrics and floral transform a thought into a memory!

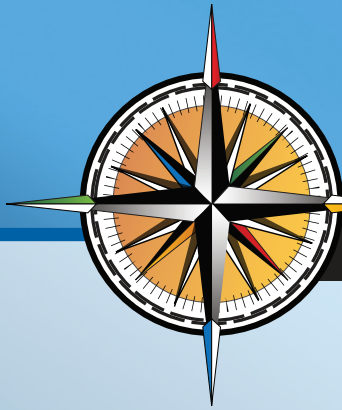

EVENT EXECUTION:

Your work is over, but ours has just begun. We will contract all vendors, supervise set up / strike, co-ordinate all pre-event meetings, and confirm all final details! And all the while, we keep you abreast of developments as they happen. Seamless and simple become our marching orders. We staff your event with dedicated, articulate professionals who are in constant contact with one another via Nextel two-way radio phones to assure seamless execution of your event and real-time peace of mind for you! And upon completion of the event, we maintain venue integrity and even pay all suppliers and vendors. One of the biggest benefits our clients enjoy is the ease of our simplified, one invoice – one payment option at event's end.

POST – EVENT MEETING:

We follow up your successful event with a post event analysis meeting. This allows us the opportunity to unwind and highlight the positives (and the extremely rare negatives) of your event. This follow up meeting also presents us with the perfect opportunity to begin planning next year's extravaganza.
